

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.)

STAR

NOV 2 1967

Approved For Release 2001/08/20 : CIA-RDP75-00001R

Circ.: m. 210,483

S. 320,514

Front Edit Other
Page Page Page

Date:

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT How About Shock?

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency now reveals that it anticipated the Soviet launching of Sputnik. In proof it cites an old speech by a CIA official saying a Red satellite "wouldn't surprise us." One must assume from this that an intelligence department which cannot be surprised by anything, no matter how unexpected, is what we need most.